Activation (Authentication)

After the installation of the VOCALOID4 Editor, you must access the VOCALOID authentication server over the Internet and perform activation (product authentication). The VOCALOID4 Editor may be used for a fixed trial period even without activation, but performing activation as soon as possible is recommended.

Special Notes for Activation

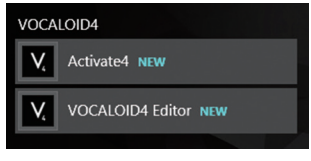
・A computer that can connect to the Internet is required to perform activation.

If the computer used to install the VOCALOID4 Editor is connected to the Internet:	If the computer used to install the VOCALOID4 Editor is not connected to the Internet:
Perform activation directly on the computer used to install the VOCALOID4 Editor. See the following activation steps for details.	Use a separate computer that can connect to the Internet to perform activation. See the "Offline Activation Information" webpage for details: http://www.vocaloid.com/en/offlineactivation/

・After activation has been performed, it is not necessary to connect to the Internet or a network. However, please leave the authentication device you selected during activation (hard disk, network Adapter) installed on your computer.

Activation Steps

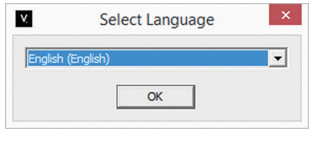
1. Select "Start" "Apps" and "VOCALOID4" on your computer, then click "Activate4"



2. The message "Do you want to allow the following program to make changes to this computer?" will be displayed on the "User Account Control" screen. If you want to allow this, click "Yes" to continue. If you do not want to allow this, click "No" to exit the activation.

3. A screen allowing you to select a language for use during activation will be displayed. Select a language for use during activation and click "OK".

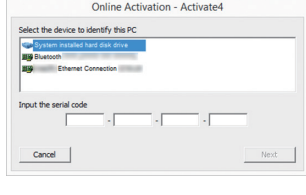
※ The figures following step 4 show the activation screens when English is selected.



4. The "Online Activation" screen will be displayed. Select either the hard disk or a network device as the authentication device.

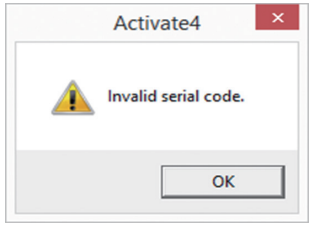
※ The hard disk where VOCALOID4 Editor was installed is selected by default.

※ If the selected authentication device is removed or replaced, reactivation will be necessary after deactivation in advance.



5. At the bottom of the "Online Activation" screen displayed in step 4, enter the 16-digit serial number and click "Next".

※ If a screen reading "Invalid serial code" is displayed, the serial number you entered may be incorrect.

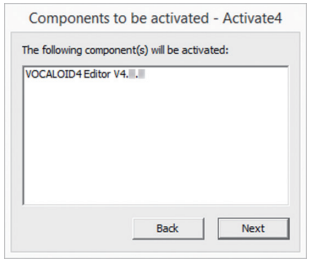


6. The "Components to be activated" screen will be displayed. Confirm that the VOCALOID4 Editor to be activated is displayed. Click "Next" to connect to the VOCALOID authentication server and obtain an activation key.

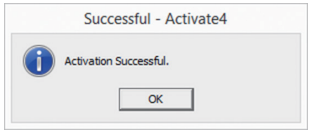
※ If authentication fails, check your Internet connection, network adapter connection, and serial number.

※ If you install a different authentication device (network adapter or hard disk) after activation, you will need to perform the activation process again after you perform the deactivation.

※ If you receive an error message when reactivating the software after, for example, replacing your computer, reactivate the software after first deactivating it as explained in the next section.



7. When you successfully obtain an activation key, the "Activation Successful" screen will be displayed. Click "OK" to exit.



This completes online activation.

Deactivation (Restoring Authentication Information)

Before uninstalling VOCALOID products including Singer Libraries, for example to transfer them to a new computer, their activation status should be cleared from the authentication server by performing deactivation (returning the activation key from your computer to the server). VOCALOID products can be uninstalled from "Programs and Features" on your computer without being deactivated, but if you do so you may be unable to perform activation when installing the products on a different computer. Since authentication information is not restored when uninstalling before deactivating, whenever possible, it is recommended to deactivate VOCALOID products before they are uninstalled.

Special Notes for Deactivation

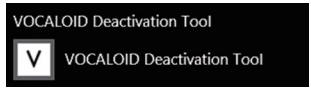
・A computer that can connect to the Internet is required to perform deactivation.

If the computer where the VOCALOID product was installed is connected to the Internet:	If the computer where the VOCALOID product was installed is not connected to the Internet:
Perform deactivation directly on the computer where the VOCALOID product was installed. See the online deactivation steps for details.	Use a separate computer that can connect to the Internet to perform deactivation. See the "Offline Deactivation Information" webpage for details: http://www.vocaloid.com/en/offlinedeactivation/

・To perform deactivation, the product's authentication information must be registered on the computer you are using. Before initializing your hard disk for OS reinstallation, etc., be sure to perform deactivation.

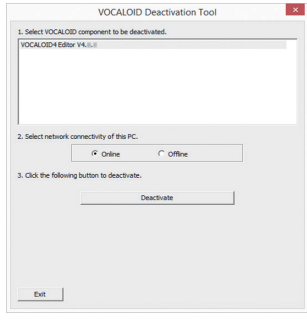
Launching the Deactivation Tool

1. Select "Start" "Apps" and "VOCALOID Deactivation Tool" on your computer, then click "VOCALOID Deactivation Tool"



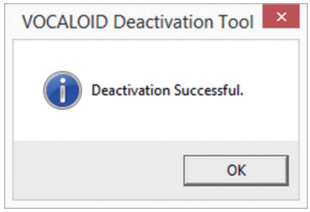
2. The message "Do you want to allow the following program to make changes to this computer?" will be displayed on the "User Account Control" screen. If you want to allow this, click "Yes" to continue. If you want to allow this, click "Yes" to continue. If you do not want to allow this, click "No" to exit the deactivation tool.

3. The "Deactivation" screen will be displayed. Select the components to be deactivated.



4. Select "Online" and click "Deactivate."

5. The deactivation will be performed, and the "Success" screen will be displayed upon completion. Click "OK" to exit.



This completes the installation.

Enjoy the VOCALOID4 Editor.
Thank you for your patronage.
